For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and overworked women generally. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. The treatment of many thousands of such cases, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute has afforded a large experience in adapting remedies for their cure, and

Mr. Editor: Will you please publish the following for the information of the Masonic Fraternity in and about Clarksville.

Edict No. 50 of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee is as follows:

"Lodges will not permit brethren who remain over a year in non-affiliation, from choice, to visit their meetings participate in their processions and public festivals, neither will they bury such voluntary non-affiliates with Masonic honors, unless two thirds of the members present, at a meeting called for that purpose, shall vote so to do.

The following is an extract from the "address" of the Grand Master delivered before the Grand Lodge at its last annual communication Jan. 25, 1887.

"Again, the army of non-affiliates is increasing. This class of Masons are willing to eat of the fruit, but are not willing to contribute anything to bear the burdens. I will be glad to see the day in Tennessee Masonry when every individual Master of a subordinate Lodge will have the nerve to say to any non-affiliate, who is one of his own free will, it matters not how high he may stand socially or otherwise, that you cannot enter the door of my lodge-room. We have been begging this class for years, and I for one want to say to them that begging is at an end and you must respect us. I trust that this Grand Lodge will, if it be possible, tax every non-affiliate in the State, and therefore recommend that the Committee on Jurisprudence be directed to formulate an edict laying an annual tax on all non-affiliates in Tennessee of, say, not less than two dollars, to be paid into the Grand Lodge treasury, the same to be collected by subordinate lodges in whose jurisdiction the non-affiliates reside, and those who will not pay to be dealt with by the Grand Lodge the same as may be done in subordinate lodges. By this means we force all non-affiliates to contribute or become debarred from all the rights and privileges of Masonry, at least in Tennessee."

The committee on Masonic Jurisprudence submitted the following report.

"We have had under consideration the resolutions as to non-affiliates, and not being able to concur in all the provisions thereof, recommend the adoption of the following edict:

"Six months non-affiliations from choice within this grand jurisdiction is a masonic offense, and punishable by indefinite suspension from all the rights and privileges of Masonry. Subordinate lodges within whose territorial jurisdiction such non-affiliates reside, shall, after due notice, try them, and if found guilty, impose the penalty."

Brother A. V. Warr introduced the following resolutions on the subject:

Resolved, That all non-affiliated Master Masons residing in the State of Tennessee be and they are hereby required to pay annually, counting from Jan. 1, 1887, the sum of two dollars into the treasury of the Grand Lodge, and failing to do so, within the current year they shall be dealt with as delinquents.

Resolved, That it shall be the duties of the secretaries of the subordinate lodges in the State to report to the Grand Secretary, on or before May 1st, each year, the name and post-office address of each non-affiliate Master Mason within the territorial jurisdiction of their lodges respectively, and the Grand Secretary shall, within one month thereafter, mail a notice to each of them requiring the payment of said sum to the secretary of the Lodge within the territorial jurisdiction of which said non-affiliate resides. The secretary shall forward the same so collected, and the names of those who have paid and those in default, with his annual return to the Grand Lodge.

Resolved, That those neglecting to pay the sum so required as herein prescribed, or failing to render to the Grand Lodge a sufficient reason for so failing, shall be declared indefinitely suspended from all the rights and privileges of Masonry, and notice thereof given in the printed proceedings of the grand lodge.

On motion, the further consideration of this subject was postponed until the next annual communication, the report of resolutions being published with the proceedings for information, and the secretaries of subordinate lodges were directed to call the attention of the non-affiliates within their bounds respectively to the action thus had.

He Had Not Decided.

A newcomer in a Texas town was asked his politics, and he promptly answered that he was a Democrat. He was asked how he stood on the temperance question, and he replied that he favored high license. He was asked as to his religion, and he thought it over a spell and slowly replied:

"I can't say. I've got to look around and see which church congregation will probably furnish the most applicants for life insurance in the company I represent."—Wall Street News.

Base Ball.

The game of baseball at Cherry Station between the Barker club and Cherrys resulted in the defeat of the Barkers by a score of 18 to 19.

C. A. Lindsay who played here last season, did some brilliant playing. He would be a valuable man for some professional club.

Two members of the Clark club of this city, P. Jackson and P. Slattery helped to win the victory for the Cherrys.

C. S. Page Arraigned.

Courier-Journal 21st.

C. S. Page, the merchant of Logan county under three indictments found by the grand jury for obtaining and receiving goods by false pretenses, was arraigned in the Circuit court yesterday morning and his case set for trial October 7. His bail was fixed at $2,000 in one case and $500 each in the other two.

Mr. CHAS. G. SMITH, Jr., has located in Memphis where he is now engaged in active business. Thoroughly trained and equipped for the duties of life and inspired with youthful energy he has bright prospect for a successful career and the warmest wishes of all his friends here will ever attend him. His personal worth will commend him to friends in Memphis.

A examination for Peabody scholarships in the State Normal College in Nashville, will be held at the county seat of each county in which there is an applicant, on Thursday, August 4th, 1887. The County Superintendents of each county will be chairman of the examining committee, with power to appoint two assistants. Examination questions will be sent from the office of State Superintendent with specific instructions for conducting the examination.

Two memorial exercises and final burial of the remains of Joel T. Hart, Kentucky's great sculptor, took place at the State capital Saturday, and it was meet and fitting that thousands of Kentuckians were there and took part in the ceremonies.

The great fame of the sculptor was mostly won under foreign skies, but his home was always Kentucky, and his happier thoughts in his life-work were that Kentuckians were proud of his achievements.—Courier-Journal.

ELDER'S Opera House is to be changed into a first-class Theatre before the opening of the next season. Tuesday Mr. Elder showed us the plans and specification as drawn by J. B. McElpatrick & Son. There will be a dress circle, parquetry and gallery all in sections and numbered, all elevated so that nothing will obstruct the view of the stage which will be 38 feet wide and 56 feet deep, with two dressing rooms.

It will be furnished with elegant folding opera chairs with attached hat rack under each. The seating capacity will be 800, and the entire building will be lighted with electricity—the ceiling and walls to be decorated with all modern improvements. Ample exits and broad aisles will prevent any crush, and all danger of fire will be avoided by the use of hot air furnaces which will give the desired temperature in all parts of the house. The work will begin the first week in July. Mr. Elder is to be congratulated on his enterprise and our citizens will sustain him with a liberal patronage.

Still Going Up.

There can be no longer any doubt as to the shortness of the tobacco crop. This is now the 25th of June and it is too late to talk about setting out more plants. The best farmers have not attempted to set out more than half their usual number of acres and the poorer farmers who have been raising little or nothing but lugs for the last ten years have learned with no other teacher than experience that "lugs" won't pay.

The market is now unusually good, better perhaps, than it has been for ten years, and every farmer who has not sold his tobacco may reasonably expect an advance for a month or two yet. Tobacco which was rejected ten days ago has sold this week for nearly double the price offered last week, and prudent men who bought early are realizing good profits. There is no telling how much higher prices may go in thirty days. We will not be surprised if good crops sell in Clarksville by that time at $15 to $20 all 'round.

THE "World" and "Post Dispatch" balloon of which so much has been said in the newspapers went up from St. Louis on the evening of the 17th, and landed about 9 o'clock that night near the farm house of Augusta Palm, a German, in the town of Hoffman, Clinton County, Ill., distant from St. Louis, almost due east, 55 miles.

The parties who made the ascension were Moore, the manager, Hazen the signal service man, Doughty, the artist and Edward Duffy, the chronicler of the expedition. They went up 16,000 feet, a little over three miles, and came down at the rate of 15 feet per second—900 feet per minute. He reports that the descent was so rapid that sand bags thrown out appeared to fly upwards. In describing the landing he says: We had out our drag rope for about five miles and our anchor three miles. We tore along fifteen miles an hour, biting out fences and tearing up good patches of ground. About a dozen farmers chased us the last mile. Finally one of them, Palm, aided by his wife, gave the drag rope half a dozen turns around an apple tree and brought us up short with terrific violence, nearly throwing us from the car. Altogether it was a thrilling adventure.

Every Dentist in the State owes it to his profession to attend this meeting; Because Associations are the popular schools of dentistry of the time; Because no man can attend a meeting without learning something of importance, either in theory or practice, if not both; Because, in offering his services to the public, he tacitly promises to give his patients the full benefit of all the resources of his profession, and he cannot do this without availing himself of every opportunity to acquire this knowledge, of which these meetings are one great source of dissemination; Because his patients have a right to demand his attendance for their benefit; Because, having had free access to all the accumulated knowledge and experience gathered in the profession in the past, each is bound to contribute his mite to the general stock. Come and have a pleasant re-union.

CORRECT DRESS.

CORRECT DRESS is the title of a little book which A. R. Hall & Son have procured for free distribution among their customers, to afford them a ready means of knowing everything relating to matters of dress.

It has just been issued, and is written by the editor of the leading Men's Fashion Journal in America. It is absolute authority on everything of which it treats.

As its title implies it tells what is the proper dress for every occasion. What to wear at weddings, receptions, parties, concerts, operas, etc. Full dress, half dress, street and business illustrated.

It gives full information as to styles of the present season, tells what jewelry a gentleman should wear, what style of shirt front, various patterns of collars, allowable, the proper kind of scarfs, ties and gloves, for evening and other wear, etc., illustrated wherever necessary.

TIES or scarfs tied by the wearer are growing in favor. Many gentlemen do not know how to tie them well. Seven diagrams are given showing how to tie a De Joinville scarf, and six showing how to tie a Four in Hand.

ALL information covering every point of social usage relating to dress is given in the choicest and clearest manner possible. The usage laid down is that of the leading New York clubs.

SEND us your name and address and we will mail you a copy free. Should you want any article mentioned in this little book, or any of the many other things which go toward making up a gentleman's dress we would be glad to serve you. Address
